

IAPB Standard List

3-4 August 2017
Geneva, Switzerland

Philip Hoare,
International Agency for the Prevention of Blindness (IAPB), UK

GS 22

The IAPB Standard List is aimed at health and rehabilitation professionals who are trying to identify and purchase high quality assistive products for the support of persons with visual impairment. The Standard List contains many assistive products but we have focussed particularly on the vision related assistive products within the GATE priority list helping buyers from Low and Middle Income countries.

The IAPB Standard List is:

- a great platform to source and compare eye health products and technologies.
- aimed at eye care professionals who are trying to identify and purchase high quality eye care equipment at the right price.
- features a full range of ophthalmic equipment and consumables, and includes Low Vision and Assistive products too.

Implications for Products, Provision, Personnel or Policy?

Make informed procurement decisions!

Each product is evaluated and scored by IAPB's Procurement Manager, Philip Hoare.

Criteria of evaluation:

- Value for money
- Customer service
- Quality control
- Appropriateness for LMIC
- Ease of use
- Purchase frequency

Implications for other aspects of the Global Research Agenda

Our ambition is to assist buyers, particularly those from low and middle income countries, make informed procurement decisions.

The IAPB Standard List is freely available and does not require registration or login – it is completely open source. The site is easy to navigate, but full instructions are available on the site.

WHAT IS THE IAPB STANDARD LIST?

The IAPB Standard List is a great platform to source and compare eye health products and technologies

What is the impact for AT users and other stakeholders?

Achieve BETTER Procurement by using the IAPB Standard List.

BETTER quality from IAPB approved manufacturers and suppliers.

BETTER value and prices for your procurement requirements, grant applications and budgeting.

Strategies to share and build global capacity based on this work

Contact: Philip Hoare

Email: phoare@iapb.org

IAPB Standard List: <https://iapb.standardlist.org/>

Contact details for global liaison

General Enquiries:

communications@iapb.org