

PROMOTING THE HEALTH OF REFUGEES AND MIGRANTS

CONTRIBUTE TO A LIVE REPOSITORY OF PROMISING PRACTICES!

The World Health Organization (WHO) is now accepting entries for its call for promising practices aligned with the six priority areas of the WHO global action plan on promoting the health of refugees and migrants (WHO GAP). This initiative seeks to highlight impactful experiences, policies, and interventions through a dynamic, live repository—inspiring evidence-informed action worldwide.

Your contribution will help build a continuously updated global platform, showcasing impactful strategies that advance refugee and migrant health. Selected case examples will be featured in the WHO Dashboard on Global Experiences in Promoting Refugee and Migrant Health.

WHO IS INVITED TO PARTICIPATE?

This call is open to State and non-State actors, including:

- Government agencies (health, migration, education, finance, etc.)
- Local governments
- WHO regional and country offices
- Other UN agencies
- Civil society organizations
- Academia

All submissions must involve collaboration with government authorities.

WHAT ARE THE FOCUS AREAS?

Submissions should address one or more of the WHO GAP priority areas,

Health communication

Countering misperceptions and spreading awareness

Public health interventions

Short-term and long-term health measures

Health care continuity

Ensuring consistent and quality health care

Policy advocacy

Promoting sensitive health policies and legal protections

Social determinants

Addressing factors influencing health outcomes

Health monitoring

Systems for tracking health data and trends

HOW ARE INITIATIVES SELECTED?

Promising practices must demonstrate:

Alignment with WHO GAP priorities

Aligns with global health priorities

Effectiveness

Measures success in achieving objectives and health impacts

Transferability

Assesses potential for replication in different contexts

Implementation

Details the methodology, target population and stakeholder involvement

Adequacy

Ensures ethical and evidence-informed approach

Sustainability

Focuses on maintaining results and future challenges

Entries are accepted and reviewed by defined submission periods

HOW TO PARTICIPATE?

Scan the QR code to access the submission questionnaire and share your practice with the global community.

WHO Special Initiative on Health and Migration

World Health Organization

20 Avenue Appia

1211 Geneva 27 Switzerland

who.int