

Biography of Dr Nermeen Youssef

Proposed Member of the World Health Organization's Technical Advisory Group on Diabetes

Dr Nermeen Youssef is a seasoned health policy leader with 20 years of experience in health care, academia and public service, underpinned by a robust background in pharmacology. Currently serving as Manager of Acute Care Policy at Alberta Health, she leads critical initiatives aimed at enhancing health care delivery across Alberta. Throughout her career, Dr Youssef has excelled in strategic project management, stakeholder engagement, and policy development, contributing significantly to high-impact projects focused on improving the health of individuals living with diabetes and other noncommunicable diseases. As a pharmacist with a Doctor of Philosophy in Pharmacology, she brings extensive expertise in pharmaceutical policy, health service delivery and diabetes management.