

WEBINAR

Don't let the opportunity pass: Integrating STI in HIV services

Services that offer PrEP for HIV infection are a major opportunity and gateway for improved STI management and response.

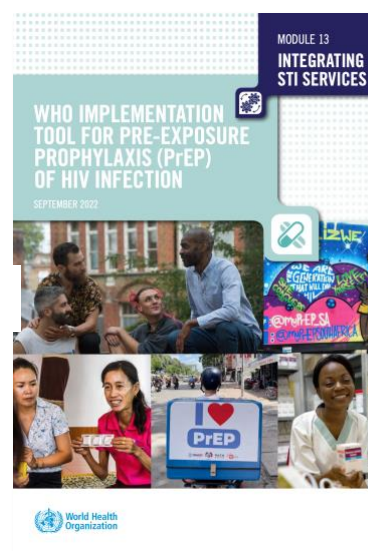

The webinar will:

- Present rationale for the integration of STIs in HIV services.
- Provide current normative status for the provision of STI services for people on HIV PrEP, focusing on African countries.
- Provide practical guidance to policymakers, programme and facility managers and other health workers to support implementing and improving STI service integration in the context of HIV service provision by using a stepwise approach.
- Highlight facilitators, barriers and lessons of integrating STI services integration in different settings and populations in Africa
