International Men's Day

Multisectoral engagement to improve gender equity in TB and ensure no one is left behind

To mark International Men’s Day 2022, the World Health Organization (WHO) and the International Union Against Tuberculosis and Lung Disease (Union) Working Group on Gender Equity in TB are organizing a webinar on multisectoral engagement to improve gender equity in TB and ensure no one is left behind. This session will continue the theme of World TB Day 2022, which calls for greater investment in TB, building on WHO’s Framework for Collaborative Action on TB and Comorbidities, and look ahead to the United Nations High Level Meeting on TB in 2023.
