This update will be based on: - the accrued data on the global prevalence and burden of disease caused by hepatitis A virus infection, including outbreaks since 2012 the review of latest available data on efficacy, effectiveness, duration of protection, schedules, safety, and cost-effectiveness of internationally available hepatitis A vaccines, considering all dosing and schedules in particular single dose schedules of inactivated vaccine. The outcome will be a 2022 update of the Hepatitis A vaccine position paper.
