

Abbreviated Biosketch for Proposed Members of the Guideline Development Group

First name	Matthew
Last name	Coldiron
Title (e.g. Mr/Ms, Dr, Professor, etc.)	Dr
Position (e.g. Director of the WHO Global Malaria Programme)	Investigator, Dept of Research, Epicentre
City	New York/Paris
Country	USA/France
Short biography (400 words max)	Matthew Coldiron is an Investigator at Epicentre, an epidemiology and research satellite created by Médecins Sans Frontières, an international medical humanitarian organization. After completing an AB at Princeton, he received MD and MPH degrees from Emory University, and completed residency training in Internal Medicine at NYU-Bellevue Hospital in New York. He has worked extensively in humanitarian contexts in sub-Saharan Africa since 2010, providing medical care and designing and leading observational studies and clinical trials. His areas of expertise include meningococcal meningitis and malaria in the African Sahel, the treatment of snakebite in resource-limited settings and emerging infections in sub-Saharan Africa.