Annex: 2027 cumulative country lists

- The 2027 cumulative country lists present the countries expected to be counted toward achievement of each indicator by the end of 2027. This includes countries already counted at baseline and countries targeted for 2026-2027. The 2028 targets are still provisional, so no 2028 country lists are included at this stage.
- The indicators listed below are those for which one clear 2027 country list can be presented. Some indicators are not included because they are not measured through country lists, because they are based on several components where countries may be counted differently, or because the countries relevant for measurement may vary depending on the reporting context.
- The information reflected in this document is based on information available to the Secretariat. For the Region of the Americas, the joint validation of indicator baselines and targets with national authorities is ongoing.
- The USA has formally requested not to be linked to any indicator that includes a direct reference to WHO
